A LOFTY TRIBUTE TO LATE SPEAKER

House Adopts Resolutions of Respect to Memory of Thomas B. Reed.

BUT THREE PRECEDENTS

His Death Has Profoundly Impressed the House--The Day in Congress.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The house today paid a remarkable tribute to the memory of ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed. His death had created a profound impression and there was a universal desire among the members that the house show a signal mark of respect to his memory. For the house to take action on the death of a former member had only three precedents in its history, namely, on the occasions of the death of Benton, Blaine and Alexander Stephens, when the house adopted resolutions and adjourned out of respect to their memories. It was decided to follow these precedents in the case of Mr. Reed. The chaplain at the opening of the session paid a feeling reference to the death of the ex-speaker. No business was transacted beyond the formal reading of two messages from the president and an arrangement to postpone the special order for today—the London dock-charge bill—until tomorrow.

A LOFTY TRIBUTE.

Mr. Sherman, of New York, then amid profound silence arose and in a few feeling remarks offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the following minute be spread upon the record of the house of representatives:

"Hon. Thomas Brackett Reed died in Washington December 7, 1902. For twenty-two years he had been a member of this house; for six years its speaker. His service terminated with the Fifty-fifth congress. Within this chamber, the scene of his life's great activities was laid. Here he rendered services to his country which placed him in the front rank of American statesmanship. Here he exhibited characteristics which compelled respect and won admiration. Forceful ability, intrinsic worth, strength of character, brought him popular fame and congressional leadership. In him depth and breadth of intellect, with a full and well rounded development, had produced a giant who towered above his fellows and impressed them with his power and his wisdom.

"A distinguished statesman, a lofty patriot, a cultured scholar, an incisive writer, a unique orator, an unmatched debater, a master of logic, wit, satire; the most famous of the world's parliamentarians; the great and representative citizen of the American republic has gone into history.

"Resolved, That in honor of the distinguished dead the house now adjourn."

THE HOUSE ADJOURNS.

When the reading of the resolutions had been concluded Speaker Henderson asked if there was objection to their present consideration. The silence remained unbroken. The resolutions were then unanimously adopted and accordingly, at 12:15, the speaker declared the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of Mr. Reed.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, Dec. 8.—After some routine business in the senate today Mr. Quay, of Pennsylvania, sent to the desk and had read the resolutions adopted by the Indian Territory executive committee on territorial legislation in opposition to the statehood bill, combining Oklahoma and Indian Territory, expressing sympathy for Oklahoma in her efforts to secure statehood, appealing for some form of local self-government, such as is provided for in what is known as the Moon bill, and denouncing certain people who it is charged have misrepresented the desires of the citizens of Indian Territory with regard to joint statehood with Oklahoma.

Mr. Penrose, of Pennsylvania, called up the immigration bill.

ANDERSON'S NAME GOES IN.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Among the nominations sent to the senate today by the president were the following:

Albert B. Anderson, United States judge for the district of Indiana.

Postmasters for Indiana—Robert Ross, East Chicago; Harry W. McDowell, Winamac; Wm. D. Dingle, Paoli; C. M. Graham, South Whitley.

HOME-MAKERS WILL MEET.

The Home-Makers' association of Huntington and surrounding counties will hold its fifth annual meeting at Huntington Friday and Saturday, Dec. 12 and 13. Addresses will be delivered by Mrs. Kedgie Jones and others, and a good time such as farmers' wives always have is assured. All interested in the education and elevation of the home are invited to attend.

MRS. HENDERSON DOES A NEW TURN

Tries Twice Sunday to Dose Herself With Chloroform --Now in Jail.

Mrs. Cora Henderson manages to keep her name in the paper with alarming regularity and some time when she miscalculates on the location of the policeman on her beat the coroner will catch her if she don't watch out. Sunday morning about 9 o'clock she went to the police station to see Superintendent Gorsline—for what purpose has not yet developed. Detective Coling in passing through the police end of the city hall saw her seated on a baby carriage in a corridor and asked what she wanted. She said she was waiting for the superintendent, whereupon the detective went upstairs. Presently he returned and found her standing near the superintendent's office door while on the floor close to her stood a bottle which she attempted to pick up as the officer came through the hall. Coling had detected the odor of chloroform and before the woman could reach it he had kicked it, breaking it and, of course, spilling the contents. She was detained a short time and then told to go and behave herself. Later she was again seen on the street and at about 3:30 was reported in the alley leading from the Elektron building from Berry to Main streets. She had procured more chloroform and when found by Officer Terry was holding a saturated handkerchief over her face. She was sent to the police station and locked up and later Superintendent Gorsline ordered her taken to the hospital ward of the jail, where she will be kept until arrangements can be made with the township trustee for her care at the county asylum. To the superintendent of police she said that she had no money, but refused to say who had given her credit for the chloroform. Her case is a peculiar one and it has been a continuous guess with the police department whether in her half dozen or more escapades she was really trying to commit suicide or simply working a huge bluff game.

FROST GRIPS THE COUNTRY

Cold Wave Sweeps From West to East and Heavy Snow is Reported.

DOWN TO ZERO IN CHICAGO

Two Feet of Snow in Northern New York---Frost in the Southland.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—A cold wave which bore down upon this city yesterday reached its climax at 9 o'clock today with a temperature at the zero mark. Today and tonight the mercury will, according to the official forecast, remain near that point, with some relief promised tomorrow. About three inches of snow has fallen.

Five fatalities from causes directly attributable to the weather have been reported to the authorities and numerous cases of destitution incident to the sudden drop were afforded relief during the night.

Delay of traffic on the railroads, street railways and elevated roads was general, many of the suburban trains being from twenty minutes to half an hour late, while through trains from the east and west were reported from two to six hours late. The shortage of coal supply was severely felt for the first time in many quarters, the suffering not being entirely confined to the poor classes. It is almost impossible to procure coal at any price at some of the outlying coal yards.

INDIANA IS BITTEN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 8.—At 7 a. m. today the temperature here was 6 above zero and 8 above at Terre Haute and Portland. The telegraph and telephone companies report many broken wires as a result of the cold.

A HOWLING BLIZZARD.

Corry, Pa., Dec. 8.—The northwestern part of Pennsylvania is in the grasp of a howling blizzard. During the night over a foot of snow fell and a fierce wind is drifting it high in many places. The railroads have their snow plows in operation keeping the tracks clear. Trains on all roads in this vicinity are delayed.

TWO FEET OF SNOW.

Jamestown, N. Y., Dec. 8.—An average of two feet of snow has fallen in Chautauqua county during the last twenty-four hours and it is still falling. Street car traffic is blocked, railroad trains are greatly delayed and country roads are almost impassable.

A TOWN WITHOUT COAL.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 8.—A severe blizzard is on here. The thermometer is down to 20 and steadily falling. At Sodus the wind is blowing forty-five miles an hour. There is no coal to be had there and many persons are suffering.

OHIO IN FROST'S GRASP.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 8.—Ohio was in the grasp of a cold wave today and a drop to zero is expected. Three inches of snow has fallen in northeastern Ohio. The temperature in Columbus and Cincinnati this morning was 14 degrees

HEAVY SNOW IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 8.—More than six inches of snow have fallen in this section during the past thirty-six hours. Early today the government thermometer registered 22 above. The weather bureau predicts that the temperature will fall to 10 above zero tonight. The severe weather has caused the almost total suspension of navigation. The big passenger steamer City of Cleveland reached this port from Detroit early today during a fierce gale. She was covered with ice.

TEN BELOW IN WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 8.—Reports from Wisconsin and upper Michigan cities show the weather to be very severe today. At Madison the mercury was 2 degrees below zero, while at La Crosse it was 10 below. All trains in the western and central parts of Wisconsin were from thirty to fifty minutes late. Reports received at Oskosh indicate that stock in the surrounding country is suffering. Marinette says that the weather is a good thing for the logging interests and that active work has begun in all the lumber camps. A special from Marquette, Mich., says that the northern peninsula was visited Sunday night by the most severe storm of the season, accompanied by a sharp drop in temperature.

WOLVERINE WEATHER.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 8.—This is the coldest day of the season in Detroit and Michigan. At 8 o'clock the thermometer registered 16 degrees above zero in this city, a drop of ten degrees during last night. Snow fell in flurries throughout the night. Alpena reports 12 above zero and at Sault Ste Marie the thermometer registers just zero. High winds are blowing on Lake Huron. Middle Island station reports a forty-two-mile wind, with heavy snow.

NEAR ZERO IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 8.—Today is the coldest of the season in this part of the southwest, the temperature being close to the zero mark. SEVERE IN IOWA.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 8.—The thermometer registered 5 degrees below zero at 7 o'clock this morning, the coldest of the season.

FROST HITS THE SOUTH.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 8.—Freezing temperature overspreads the country south of the Ohio river to a line touching north Alabama, Mississippi and north Texas, the thermometer in many places recording the coldest weather of the winter. Rain in southern Texas and much snow in north Texas and Oklahoma are reported. Following are minimum temperatures:

Louisville, 18; Nashville, 26; Memphis, 28; Chattanooga, 32; Fort Worth, Texas, 26; Little Rock, Ark., 28; Fort Smith, 34; Montgomery, 32; Atlanta, 32; Charlotte, N. C. 36; Augusta, Ga., 36; Jacksonville, 46, and New Orleans, 50.

Fair and colder weather is generally forecasted south.

SLIGHT TASTE OF GENUINE WINTER

First Touch of Genuine Winter Sends Gas Supply to a Very Low Ebb.

The first installment of weather that very closely resembled genuine winter for the present season was unloaded upon Fort Wayne last night, and about the first thing to capitulate to the icy blasts was our old friend, the gas pressure.

A stiff west wind which started Sunday afternoon wafted in the chilly temperature, and from 2 o'clock onward there was a pronounced drop of the mercury in the thermometers. It had the effect of keeping indoors all who were not compelled to get about, and last evening the streets were practically deserted at an early hour.

At 6 p. m. the temperature as recorded at the gas company's office was 18 degrees, and by midnight it was 5 degrees colder. The steady decline continued until the minimum, 9 degrees above, was reached at 5 o'clock this morning. Then a slow upward movement began. All over town there was complaint of low gas pressure, and in almost every case people found it necessary to reenforce the fuel supply with some other sort of combustible. At the gas company's office it was said that everything possible was being done to supply the gas, and with the exception of one station the pumps are all in operation. Promises on the future outlook were made very guardedly.

H. H. SCHONE QUITE ILL.

Funeral Director Henry H. Schone is confined to his home on East Washington street today by illness, and it is said that symptoms of appendicitis are present in his case.

The west salesroom of the Meyer Cycle company's store, on West Berry street, will be remodeled this month and fitted up as an automobile repair shop. The front of the room will be torn out and a large entrance will be built in to accommodate the largest vehicles.

THE DEMURRER IS OVERRULED

Judge Smith, at Portland, Renders Decision in Berry Street Case.

HE SUSTAINS THE CITIZENS

Upon Averrment That Street is Too Narrow at One Point.

In a decision from which attorneys for both citizens and traction company profess to be able to extract some measure of satisfaction, Judge Smith, in the circuit court at Portland, this morning rendered his finding in the case of Evans et al. vs. the S. B. Fleming company, involving the right of the Fort Wayne, Van Wert and Lima Traction company to lay its tracks and operate its cars upon East Berry street. Judge Smith held that the complaint of the remonstrating citizens is good and overruled the demurrer filed by attorneys for the traction company.

The case, as is well known, grew out of the protest of citizens of East Berry street against the use of that thoroughfare as a right-of-way by the interurban company. They appeared before the city council to remonstrate against the granting of the franchise, but the measure was passed, and later the citizens filed in the local courts a suit to restrain the building of the line. The traction company at once filed a demurrer to the remonstrator's complaint, and upon the company's petition for a change of venue the case was sent to the Jay circuit court at Portland, where the arguments upon the demurrer were heard several weeks ago by Judge Smith, who took the matter under advisement. Olds & Doughman represent the traction company, while Judge W. G. Colerick, Judge Zollars and R. B. Hanna appeared in behalf of the residents of East Berry street.

HINGED ON SINGLE POINT.

The finding of Judge Smith this morning overruling the company's demurrer hinged upon the single averment of the remonstrators, which set forth that for some distance near the intersection of Monroe and East Berry street the thoroughfare over which the right-of-way had been granted is so narrow that the construction of the line would amount to a practical exclusion of other traffic from the street, and that the presence of a street railway there would so completely occupy the street as to exclude all other traffic, making it impossible to use the thoroughfare for other purposes and thus practically obliterating it so far as the general public was concerned. It was set forth by the remonstrators that Monroe street is so narrowed near its intersection with Berry that there is but thirteen feet of street there. Under the state law it is plainly impossible to grant to any company rights to a street which would amount to a practical exclusion of all other traffic there, and upon this single point alone Judge Smith rendered his finding overruling the demurrer.

INTERURBANS NOT A BURDEN.

Upon all other points the ruling of the Portland jurist is favorable to the interurban company and closely in line with the decision of Judge O'Rourke in the Fulton street cases some months ago. It is held in substance that the interurban lines are not more burdensome upon a street than are ordinary city street railway systems; that the fact that they may carry freight or express does not constitute sufficient ground for objection and that abutting property owners under normal conditions are not entitled to recover damages for the passing of an interurban electric line along the thoroughfare adjoining their property.

Attorney N. D. Doughman, representing the S. B. Fleming company, stated at noon today that the next step in the litigation would be the joining of issues by the company, in which the averments of the remonstrators regarding the width of the thoroughfare at the disputed point will be attacked, and it will then devolve upon the remonstrants to submit evidence supporting the contentions upon which the decision of Judge Smith was rendered.

In the complaint it is set forth that the narrow point in the street is but thirteen feet in width, while the company's representatives assert that the thoroughfare is much wider. The case will now be set for trial upon the complaint.

Judge Walter Olds, for the traction company, and Judge Allen Zollars and Judge Walpole G. Colerick, for the East Berry street citizens, were at Portland today to be present at the rendering of Judge Smith's decision.

TWO BROTHERS ASK DIVORCE.

Urbana, O., Dec. 8.—Alva C. and Alvina A. Buckles, brothers, filed suit in the court of common pleas late Saturday afternoon for divorces. They reside in the same township and both were married seven years ago only four days apart. Both wives ran away after being married only two years and their whereabouts are unknown. The brothers hired the same attorneys and both petitions charge the defendants with being guilty of gross neglect of duty and willful absence.

REMAINS OF LATE SPEAKER AT HOME

Body of Thomas B. Reed Now in Portland, Me.--Funeral Tomorrow.

Portland, Me., Dec. 8.—The funeral train bringing the body of former Speaker Thomas B. Reed arrived here at 12:29 p. m.

Two cars, in one of which the body rested, while in the other Mrs. Reed, the widow, and friends, comprised a funeral section of the federal express.

Accompanying the body besides the widow and Miss Catherine, the daughter of the former congressman, were Amos L. Allen, Mr. Reed's successor in the house of representatives; Asher C. Hinde, his parliamentary clerk while speaker; Augustus G. Payne, of New York, a close personal friend, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barrows.

The former speaker died in Washington at midnight Saturday. During the day his condition gradually became worse until well into the night, when his condition was seen to be hopeless. The remains left Washington for this place yesterday afternoon.

The departure from Washington was very unostentatious, in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Reed. The funeral will be held here tomorrow.

SKETCH OF T. B. REED.

Thomas Brackett Reed was born in Portland, Maine, October 18, 1839, and graduated at Bowdoin college in 1860. He then studied law, but on April 19, 1864, he was appointed acting assistant paymaster in the United States navy and served faithfully until November 4, 1865.

Upon his discharge he was admitted to the practice of law, opening an office in Portland. He served as a member of the house of representatives of Maine in 1868-9 and was elected state senator in 1870, and served as attorney general of his state in 1870-72.

From 1874 to 1877 he served as city solicitor for the city of Portland and became a member of congress in March, 1877.

He was speaker of the Forty-first, Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth congresses, and was re-elected to the Fifty-sixth congress.

In 1896 he was mentioned as a republican candidate for the presidency. He was the author of "Reed's Rules," a work on parliamentary usages, which gained a reputation for severity, resulting in his being called a "czar."

With Mr. Reed's training as a lawyer and as a politician he turned out to be the man who could reform the methods of the lower house of congress. These, in his earlier days, had become notoriously dilatory. There was no method known by which a quorum could be assured at a critical moment, and consequently no way of ascertaining when a legislative problem had been worked out to the point where it ought to be settled by a decisive vote.

Reed changed all this. The indescribable phenomena of the British house of commons, in which the Irish members under the lead of Parnell were actually discovering new problems in the scheme of parliamentary obstruction, suggested methods by which the tactics of obstructionists could be met.

The evangelistic meetings will be continued this week at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ, with Rev. Harris in charge, assisted by Prof. Millard, the singing evangelist. Prof. Millard's illustrated songs are proving to be a great factor in the meetings.

Mrs. C. E. Cook, of Wallen, has returned from Detroit, where she attended the wedding of her son, Alvin Cook, which occurred last week. The groom is a farmer living in Washington township.

ULTIMATUM SENT TO VENEZUELA

Great Britain Demands That Prompt Settlement Be Made With Her.

IS ACTING WITH GERMANY

Premier Balfour Announces Action to the House of Commons.

London, Dec. 8.—Premier Balfour, announced in the house of commons today that an ultimatum had been sent to Venezuela and that in the event of a satisfactory reply not being received, the British and German governments would take measures to enforce their claims against that country.

Mr. Balfour, when questioned on the Venezuelan situation by the liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, said:

"For the past two years we have had grave cause for complaint on various occasions of unjustifiable interference by the Venezuelan government with the liberty and property of British subjects. No efforts have been spared by the British government to obtain an amicable settlement of these cases, but in none of them have satisfactory explanations been forthcoming. Latterly the representations of the British minister have been practically unnoticed. There are also cases in which British subjects and companies have large claims. We have been acting in conjunction with the German government, which also has large claims against Venezuela. A final communication has been made to the Venezuelan government by the British minister and the German charge d'affaires. If no satisfactory reply is received the governments have decided to take such measures as may be necessary to enforce their claims."

Replying to a supplementary question, Mr. Balfour said he understood the communication to Venezuela was neither joint nor identic.

ULTIMATUM PRESENTED.

Berlin, Dec. 8.—The German-British ultimatum to Venezuela was presented at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Caracas.

FRANCE WANTS IN.

Paris, Dec. 8.—Several newspapers here are urging the French government to send warships to participate in the naval demonstration against Venezuela, pointing out the extent of French interests in that country. It is said at the foreign office, however, that the government will adhere to its purpose to hold aloof from the movement, as the protocol signed by France and Venezuela assures a satisfactory settlement of the French claims.

THOMAS NAST IS DEAD OF PLAGUE

Guayaquil, Dec. 8.—Thomas Nast, consul general of the United States at Guayaquil, died of yellow fever in this city yesterday. Five hours later his body was buried in a local cemetery.

Mr. Nast was famous as a cartoonist and painter. He was appointed consul at Guayaquil only a few months ago. Three days ago he was stricken with yellow fever. Every possible effort was made to save his life, but the fever had obtained a strong hold and he passed away at noon.

The coffin was wrapped in the American flag and borne to the cemetery ahead of a sorrowing group of mourners. The funeral was attended by the governor, all members of the American colony, the consular corps and many friends. Although Mr. Nast's service here was brief, he made many friends both among the native and foreign population. His death is deeply lamented. The British consul recited a prayer at the cemetery.

SKETCH OF MR. NAST.

Mr. Nast was born Sept. 27, 1840, in Laudau, Bavaria. His father was a noted musician in the Bavarian army, who moved to New York in 1846 and became a member of the famous Philharmonic society. Young Nast was educated in the public schools of New York city, early displaying a talent for art. At the age of 14 he took a six months' course of study under Theodore Kaufman and this constituted his sole training. His father died in 1856 and the boy began almost immediately to draw sketches for Frank Leslies Illustrated Newspaper.

In 1860 Nast was sent to England to sketch the Heenan-Sayers prize fight for the New York Illustrated News.

From London Nast went to Italy, where he joined the army of Garibaldi, going with it through the victorious campaigns of Sicily and Calabria as a member of General Garibaldi's staff. London and Paris papers eagerly bought the sketches of the campaign which he supplied.

Returning to the United States in February, 1861, Mr. Nast was better equipped than any other American to illustrate the scenes of the civil war because of his experience abroad. He formed a permanent connection with Harper's Weekly in July, 1862, and supplied that magazine with stirring battle scenes and other pictures that did untold good in molding union sentiment in places where opinion was divided.

While corruption in New York city government held sway in the days following reconstruction Mr. Nast developed the cartoon, the satirical picture that awoke slumbering justice and set the dogs of law after the criminals.

"Boss" Tweed, whom he could picture as he could all others by a physical peculiarity so that every person would recognize the man represented without the necessity of a name being attached, was afraid of Nast's cartoons. When Nast had accomplished Tweed's downfall and the "boss" was a fugitive from justice he said: "The readin' stuff's of little account; it's the pictures that bother me." Nast's pictures enabled the authorities to find, arrest and identify Tweed.

Mr. Nast's favorites for subjects of caricatures were Tweed, the corrupt "boss;" Horace Greeley, then in the political limelight, and A. Oakley Hall, mayor of New York, whose exaggerated eyeglasses and lank figure as drawn by Nast were recognizable anywhere.

In 1892 Mr. Nast conducted Nast's Weekly. In earlier years he had published Nast's Illustrated Almanac and had illustrated the works of Petroleum V. Nasby and other comic writers. He was a republican until in 1884, when he became a supporter of Grover Cleveland. He was appointed consul to Guayaquil May 1 last by President Roosevelt and left New York for his post, his first political office, July 1. His home was in Morristown, N. J. He was married Sept. 20, 1861, to Sarah Edwards, of London, and five children were born of the union.

DRUNKS ARE FINED IN POLICE COURT

In some respects police court was a rather remarkable proposition this morning. There were a number of cases with very little variety, drunkenness being the principal charges. Judge Dreibelbiss is at Huntington attending the funeral of a relative, which accounts for Attorney J. R. Bittinger sitting as special judge.

Laverne Benedict, a lad of nineteen, was arrested on Saturday night for being drunk. He pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs, but on the intercession of his mother, who said that he was her principal support, sentence was suspended during his good behavior.

Elba Reed, who was with young Benedict and was arrested shortly after, also charged with drunkenness, pleaded not guilty. Reed testified that he had taken but two drinks Saturday afternoon and said he had met young Benedict, who was considerably intoxicated, and who had volunteered to walk home with him. He said that when passing along the Nickel Plate tracks he met George Rabel, with whom he previously had trouble, and that Rabel assaulted him. Reed's arrest by Deputy Sheriff Huguenard followed shortly after. The judge seemed disposed to let Reed go, but asked him if he would have to go to jail in case of being fined, and Reed thought not. He was then given $1 and costs. His wife started out to get the money or someone to stay the docket.

J. L. Thorpe, a saloonkeeper at the corner of Main and Harrison streets, was the next victim. He was charged with having sold liquor to minors and young Benedict was made the prosecuting witness. Benedict swore that Thorpe had not sold him any intoxicating liquor and Thorpe swore that he had not, and had not seen him drink any in his place. Mrs. Benedict testified that she had notified Thorpe not to sell her son anything, to which the defendant admitted; said that that notice was received six or eight months ago, and that since that time he had not seen him get a drink in the place. No witness testified that Thorpe had sold young Benedict anything at any time, but the judge thought he had, anyway, and assessed a fine of $30, which was paid. "A fellow has to pay so much every once in awhile, anyway," was Thorpe's philosophical comment as he left the court room.

Edward Feltz was indulging in a Sunday morning song service at 9 o'clock yesterday at the corner of Calhoun and Main. Officer Dickson heard him and found that his song service and his booze were so badly mixed that it was hard to tell which there was the most of. Feltz gave bond and this morning arranged to pay the fine, which was an even dollar.

William Butts glanced timidly at the court, said he was guilty of being drunk and that he had nothing to say in extenuation save that he hoped it would be light. The judge said it would be eleven days.

Jack Devany got $1 and costs through the absence of Judge Dreibelbiss, who in giving him $15 and ten days extra last September, threatened him with the limit next time.

RELEASED THE WOMAN.

Anna Jones (colored), late of South Bend, was arrested yesterday afternoon at the Lake Shore depot by Detective Rulo. The arrest was made on a telegram from the authorities at South Bend, saying that she was wanted there, where she was charged with the theft of a mandolin, a mouth harp and some other small musical instruments. The chief of police at South Bend was notified of her arrest, but at 1 o'clock last night the local department received a telegram from South Bend authorities requesting her release and saying that the parties interested refused to pay the expense of bringing her back to that city for trial. She was accordingly set free and this morning took the Lake Erie train for the south, accompanied by her lover, a colored gentleman named Smith, who has been in the city for some days engaged as foreman with the Barber asphalt company's repairing gang. Before leaving Mr. Smith said that he and Miss Jones would go to Muncie, where they would remain several days while he superintended some repair work, and from there would go to Indianapolis, where they would be married.

PROPOSE A NEW HEATING SYSTEM

Fort Wayne Men Meet This Afternoon to Organize Big Company.

HAVE ASKED A FRANCHISE

Would Supply Hot Water Heat to Stores, Business Houses and Residences.

Prominent Fort Wayne citizens will very shortly make application to the board of public works for a franchise which will permit them to establish an extensive heating plant in Fort Wayne.

The new company is only in progress of formation, but the application is being made by Messrs. George W. Beers, S. M. Foster, Judge W. J. Vesey, W. P. Breen, S. S. Fisher, Max B. Fisher, W. E. Mossman, Louis Fox and others.

It is the intention to incorporate the new company at once with a capitalization sufficient to carry forward the plan to construct an extensive heating system by which heat can be furnished to business houses, factories and residences.

The system proposed is one in which hot water is used for heating, and many cities already have it in successful operation. In view of the failing gas supply, the project is likely to be received with considerable favor.

The gentlemen who are organizing the company are in session this afternoon at the office of G. W. Beers completing the details of the organization.

Late this afternoon Mr. Breen filed the petition for the franchise but it is understood the document will not be taken up today.

RAILING GETS A PRISON SENTENCE

Bigamist, With One Wife in Fort Wayne, Collapses in Court at Niles.

Claude Railing, the Decatur man who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy at Niles, Mich., a few days ago, was sentenced Saturday by Judge Coolidge in the circuit court to serve a sentence of two years and six months in the Michigan state reformatory. After receiving the sentence Railing collapsed and was led from the court room weeping.

Six months ago Railing married Miss Florence Zimmerman at Niles and the following week it was learned that the man had a wife living in Fort Wayne. He asserted that he believed his first wife had been divorced and thought himself free to marry again. Attorney Smith, of Decatur, represented Railing at the trial. Mrs. Railing No. 1 has been living on Lafayette street in this city since her separation from her husband.

Mr. Meegan is very well known in this city, and his friends will be pleased to hear of his advancement.

STEPPED AGAINST A HOT STOVE.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. This sort of weather serves to remind the householder that he ought to have been prepared to piece out his supply of natural gas with a few hodfuls of hard coal.

It took the house ten minutes to pass the pension appropriation bill carrying over $139,000,000. The time gained there will be more than made up by the time lost in wrangling over an appropriation for a public building at Podunk. Congress never fails to preserve the average.

Complaint is made that there is a scarcity in the medical colleges of subjects for dissection. There is not much that is astonishing in this situation. With a couple score of ghouls under arrest in one city and the cemeteries already pretty well depopulated, a stringent market ought naturally to follow.

A German scientist has discovered that in the skins of every half pound of currants there are 11,000,000 bacteria. Here is a chance for some inventor to make the young man in Frank Stockton's fairy story who was frittering away his time trying to devise a machine to peel currants, look like the proverbial thirty cents.

If along with the proposed adoption of new garbage receptacles the city authorities will devise and adopt some means to have the contents of the said receptacles collected more promptly, the whole matter may be commended as a reform that is worth while. The visits of the garbage wagons are somewhat fewer and farther between than angel visits—at least to some sections of the city.

The city of Fort Wayne cannot put itself in position too soon to realize upon the plans of the Pennsylvania railroad company to abolish grade crossings here. Every day the grade crossing at Calhoun street and the railway tracks is not only a menace to life and limb, but it is a source of unspeakable inconvenience and annoyance to hundreds. There ought to be no greater delay than is absolutely necessary in getting a subway at that crossing and we believe the Pennsylvania railroad will be ready to begin the work as soon as the city is.

The death of Thomas Nast takes away the first of America's great cartoonists and in all respects the greatest of them all. For many years Nast has not attracted much attention, but his fame as a pictorial satirist was thoroughly secure and his fortune ample, so that he had little need to devote himself laboriously to his art. In the matter of distinct achievements Nast has never been approached by any caricaturist of this or any other country. His work for Harper's Weekly during the exposures of the Tweed ring in New York some thirty years ago was the most powerful ever done in political caricature and had vast effect in extirpation of the Tweed gang. In the campaign of 1872 Nast's caricatures of Greeley, the democratic and liberal republican candidate for the presidency, were severe and merciless and cut Greeley to the quick. It has even been said that the severity of Nast's treatment of Greeley had something to do with hastening that great journalist's death, which occurred shortly after his defeat for the presidency. Two figures very common in the political cartoons of today—the republican elephant, the democratic donkey and the Tammany tiger—were the inventions of Nast.

DEATH OF MR. REED.

This nation loses one of its mighty figures in the death of the former speaker of the national house, Thomas Brackett Reed. It is not the portion of every great man to be admiringly and confidently looked up to when his public service and relation has ceased, but it was so in the case of the former speaker. Though he had been out of congress three years and during that time engaged in private pursuits, his opinion was sought and his views respected on all great public questions. His death makes a gap in the ranks of our great men that no one else can fill.

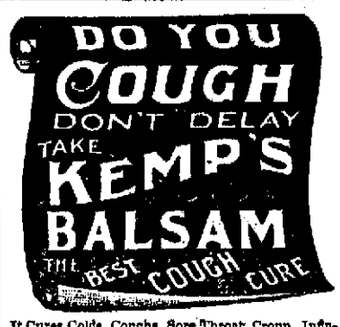
Thomas B. Reed was a giant. There were few of his contemporaries in American statesmanship above whom he did not rise in intellect and constructive ability as he towered above them in stature. Unique, original, dominant, he was one of the dynamic forces in a long epoch of statesmanship, in which he easily figured first.

Though a man of many qualities and unusual breadth of view, his greater fame will rest upon his achievements as speaker of the house of representatives. It was he who first found the means to obstruct the obstructionists and compel the house to transact business. Partisan filibustering became a memory with the advent of the "Reed rules." It brought upon his head the fierce denunciations of his political opponents, and won him the title of "czar," but he was calm, undeterred, often cynical and eternally firm through it all. His vindication came with fine amplitude when the democrats, obtaining control of the house later, perpetuated the "Reed rules."

Beyond question failure to realize his ambition for the presidency was a bitter disappointment to Speaker Reed, as it had been to another great statesman from his own state. After Harrison's renomination in 1892 Reed looked with much hopefulness to the next republican national convention, and it is truth to say that he was popularly regarded as the man most likely to receive the nomination. But he did not, nor did his friends and admirers take into account the tremendous campaign Mark Hanna was preparing to wage throughout the country for William McKinley; and against the Hanna organization, machinery and means Reed went down with the appearance of never having had any chance whatever. Later he got out of touch with his party on the great questions arising from the Spanish war, and at the close of his term in 1899, he retired from congress.

Like many another honest statesman, Thomas B. Reed served his country at immense personal sacrifice. While frugal habits enabled him to save part of the meagre salary of a congressman and the demand for the work of his pen and his popularity as a lecturer enabled him to give himself comfortable circumstances, he was by no means a rich man. It is probable that his law practice in New York, whither he went after his retirement from congress, yielded him more than his entire public career previously had done.

The former speaker was still in the very prime of his powers and his death is untimely and unfortunate.



It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. PRAISES FORT WAYNE TEAM.

(Huntington Democrat.)

From all reports Fort Wayne lodge No. 19, A. O. U. W., has the "hottest" degree team that ever visited Huntington. Fort Wayne lodge No. 19 chartered a car Thursday evening for the purpose of visiting the Huntington lodge and performing the work on a large class that was ready for initiation. There were fifty-six visiting members of the party. The team's action was as precise as clockwork and was greatly enjoyed by the Huntington brethren. At the close of the lodge work Huntington members were entertained by the Fort Wayne members with some excellent vocal selections, which were simply immense. Messrs. Hurlbut, Holbrock and Voirol sang in trio and were heartily encored. A trio by E. B Smith, Ed Hurlbut and William Wurth was a "peach." Another member of the visiting party favored the audience with several choice recitations.

A SOLDIER'S FOE

Knocked Down by Unsuspected Enemy.

Coffee so affects the brain and nerves that proper nutrition is interfered with and the final ending is frequently nervous prostration.

"During the Spanish-American war, I went with my troop to Chickamauga," says Lieut. J. G. Talbott, of Springfield, Ill. "If there is any one place on earth where one drinks more coffee than another it is in the army. It is a soldier's 'back-bone,' and I can assure you that I drank my share. After several months of hard drilling my health gave out, the chief cause being coffee, bad food, over-exertion and heat.

"On the advice of the surgeon, I tendered my resignation and with my heart full of regret and my nervous system shattered, I returned home. Almost the first thing the doctor whom I consulted advised me was to quit coffee. That was the first intimation I had that coffee had anything to do with my condition. The next thing was 'what shall I drink?'

"My wife's mother used your Postum Food Coffee and knew how to make it right, so I tried it and grew fond of it. My nervous trouble soon left; my old time health came back, and that fall I gained so in flesh that the boys on returning after 'muster out,' hardly knew me. Quitting coffee and using Postum did wonders for me."

THE WHOLE FAMILY WAS UNCONSCIOUS

Edward Moses, Wife and Child Have Narrow Escape From Asphyxiation.

The family of Edward Moses, residing at 1603 Wells street, had an extremely narrow escape from death by asphyxiation Saturday morning, and Mrs. Moses is still confined to her bed, suffering from the effects of her experience.

Mr. Moses is a machinist and moved his family to Fort Wayne from Auburn on Friday in order that he might accept a position at the works of the Western Gas Construction company. Natural gas was connected up at the residence Friday afternoon, and the fact that the family is not familiar with its use is held accountable for their suffering. In some manner the house became filled with escaping gas during the first night of their occupancy of the home.

The father awakened late Saturday morning to find himself struggling for breath and the fumes of gas in the house overpowering. Almost immediately he was taken violently ill, but attempted to awaken his wife and little son. In the case of the little boy the father was successful, but he also grew very ill. Despite the efforts to awaken Mrs. Moses she remained in a deep stupor and a physician was called. He labored until Saturday afternoon before the woman was restored to consciousness. Heart complications which are present in her case made the experience additionally severe, and she is still very ill from the effects of the gas. Auburn relatives were summoned to her bedside, and it is now believed she is safely upon the road to recovery.

HEADS LADY MANAGERS.

Mrs. Blair Will Be a Busy Woman at the St. Louis World's Fair.

Mrs. James Lawrence Blair, who has just been elected president of the board of lady managers of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, has for years been prominent in St. Louis society and is regarded as eminently fitted for the duties of the position. The ladies' board is one of three co-ordinate bodies governing the exposition, which makes Mrs. Blair's position one of great importance.

The board of lady managers has not yet decided upon the kind of building

it will erect on the fair site. It can only recommend the erection of a certain kind of structure, as the national commission will have charge of the contract. It may be granted full power by the national commission, however, to erect its own building. At present no appropriation has been made for it except for actual traveling expenses.

Mrs. Blair is the wife of James Lawrence Blair, general counsel of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company. She is a woman of commanding appearance and unusual executive ability and has a wide acquaintance in Washington, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Chicago.

As an organizer she is recognized in amateur musical circles throughout the country. Mrs. Blair has accomplished marked results for the elevation of music in St. Louis. As president of the Morning Choral club she was signally successful, bringing that organization from mediocrity to its present high standard of excellence.

When, some months ago, Mrs. Blair's name was brought forward in connection with the appointment to a membership on the ladies' board of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, she received the indorsement of a majority of the promoters of the fair. This was followed by indorsements from nearly 200 exclusive social leaders in St. Louis whose names had never before been attached to such a petition.

Those familiar with the work of Mrs. Blair are confident that she will be of great value to the exposition company in the organization and management of the woman's department. Her wide experience in organizations of various kinds peculiarly fits her for the handling of the vast details which will arise in a work of such magnitude as the woman's department of the St. Louis world's fair.

Rheumatics Can Tell by Their Aches When a Storm is Coming.

Rheumatics save barometers, but it is like sticking knives into them when change of weather comes.

When nature waves her danger flag it is an acute evidence of the disease and a cry for help. She cannot free herself from this Uric acid, but convulsively tries to throw it off as the stomach tries to eject a poison.

If you do not help nature you will have to suffer. You have suffered. There's no need. Athlophoros can stop the pain and free you from this weather-vane trick. Athlophoros acts directly on the Uric acid like a May day on an ice field—it will drive your Rheumatism away, no matter what kind of Rheumatism or Neuralgia you may have. Sciatica and Lumbago both come from Uric acid and will respond quickly to the action of Athlophoros—it will soothe and quiet you—you can prove it easily. If your druggist doesn't keep it send $1 to The Athlophoros Co., New Haven, Conn. It is pleasant to know help is so near. You will find it still pleasanter to be without aches and pains.

ELKS' ANNUAL LODGE OF SORROW

Impressive Memorial Services Held at Masonic Temple Theatre.

A GREAT AUDIENCE THERE

Lofty Tribute to Memory of Brothers Who Died in Past Year.

Fond memories and kindliest recollections of departed brethren formed the shrine about which Fort Wayne members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks gathered Sunday evening in the annual lodge of sorrow at Masonic Temple, and the theater in parquet, circle and gallery was crowded to its utmost by a great audience thoroughly in sympathy with the exercises of the hour.

It was the annual memorial services of the fraternity, and in point of interest, impressiveness and excellence of program, probably surpassed any previous effort of the brotherhood in that direction. Hundreds had been turned away unable to gain admission when Peineke's orchestra, at 8 o'clock, rendered the opening number of the program—a serenade. It was followed by Miss Hattersley's charmingly rendered solo, "Lead, Kindly Light." The accompanist was Miss Leah Cohen. The Cathedral quartet—Miss Rheda Lamley, soprano; Miss Claudia Donnelly, contralto; Henry Beadell, tenor, and Carl J. Weber, basso, was next heard in an effective rendition of "Hear Us, O Lord." Prof. Noll presided at the organ.

PICTURES OF THE DEAD.

The ritualistic opening ceremonies, conducted by officers of the Elks' lodge, seated upon the stage and wearing the rich purple robes of their positions, afforded an opportunity for a unique and very impressive reference to the departed members of Fort Wayne lodge. The theater was darkened for the time and as Secretary Albert C. Alter called the roll of the dead, a portrait of each of the deceased brothers was flashed upon a large screen by means of a stereopticon. The list included portraits of F. G. Davis, George M. Long, George B. McKinnie, M. M. M. Slattery, M. L. Albrecht, John E. Brown, William McK. Pardee, Edward J. Erickson, Henry J. Lapp, John Hamm, Isaac Trauerman, Charles F. Muhler, Ed C. Ross, George H. Barnes, Murray Hartnett, Christian Newcomer, John Andrews, R. C. Bell, William Cavanaugh and George R. Hench.

Miss Gill was heard to splendid effect in a contralto solo, "Come Unto Me," with accompaniment by Mrs. F. V. Culbertson. One of the strongest musical features of the evening and a unique departure that proved a genuine delight to the audience, was the appearance of the vested boys' choir of Trinity Episcopal church, under the direction of Hugh McLetchie, with Miss Grace Perrin playing the piano accompaniments. The lads sang with much force and enthusiasm, their rich young voices combining in a most pleasing harmony of much volume. The choir came upon the stage singing the processional hymn, "We March, We March to Victory," and at its conclusion Rev. A. W. Seabrease offered the invocation, beginning with the recital of the Lord's prayer, reading the ritualistic memorial prayer of the church and concluding with an impromptu invocation upon the order and the assemblage. "We That Stand in the House," was then rendered by the choir, and Hon. William P. Breen was then introduced for the general eulogy of the dead.

THE GENERAL EULOGY.

Mr. Breen said:

In the cradle of Elkdom, in the city of New York, in the year 1870, was held the first lodge of sorrow. From that day, when but one lodge of this great order existed, on the first Sunday of each succeeding December, the significant ceremony has been renewed, these commemorative exercises have been held; and, throughout this vast land, our honored order has each year stepped aside from the lines of business and pleasure to pay public, solemn tribute to the dead. There is something in the human heart which binds us to the dead. The young mother's tender recollections of her dead babe live until the mother, wrapped in the shadows of age, is laid beside the babe. History, although the chronicle of the grave, is a lovable study, delighting the young and entertaining the old. The Egyptians, to emphasize their regard for the dead, centuries before the Christian era, raised the giant pyramids, in order to tell to future generations who should walk the earth, when the renown of the Egyptian dynasty should have faded into the unregarded past, that at the dawn of civilization, in the height of its glory, its splendor, and its power; commemoration of the dead was a high and ennobling duty. Monuments to the dead smite the eye on every side; it may be the stately mausoleum, the master work of the architect and the builder, constructed so as to defy the corroding tooth of time; or it may be the unmarked mound of an unnamed soldier whose ashes passed to earth "unknelled, uncoffined and unknown." Why is there some mark which arrests the eye at the resting place of the dead? Why do we gather in this memorial work? Is it love for that body in the tomb that is the philosophical basis, the rational principle of commemoration of the dead, or is it affection for the spirit which gave that body the life and beauty—the soul which the Eternal God robed in immortality?

IMPRESSED BY DEATH.

We are impressed by death because of the always sudden and always abrupt departure of that vital spark which gave beauty to the cheek, lustre to the eye, expression to the tongue, grace and carriage to the body, mentality to the head, and affection to the heart. The body, after death, moulders into dust, but the soul lives on forever. This truth induced our greatest epic poet to characterize death as

"The golden key
That opes the palace of eternity."

Reflection on the great fact of death mellows the heart of man and refines his thoughts. In the advancement of our intellectuality we much prefer to dwell upon the good than upon the evil which our friends and those dearer to us did in life. It is a more grateful memory and it stimulates us to better things. Valuable to us all, then, is the occasion when there comes back to us, painted on the eye of memory, those things in the lives of our unsepulchered friends which the world calls good and noble and true.

The great order under whose auspices we are met, in deference to a sentiment that was congenital with civilization and in consonance with the suggestions of the intellectual and moral refinement of this age, commemorates all its dead and places tonight a wreath of immortelles upon the abiding place of every brother who has "Closed his eyes in endless night."

From the grave of every Elk tonight is preached a sermon to the living, and the text of that memorial discourse is "Charity, Justice, Love and Fidelity." No nobler theme ever inspired the orator nor entranced the audience. These four splendid cardinal virtues have monumentalized Elkdom so that the world gazes admiringly and approvingly at its towering proportions, which make for the betterment of man and the uplift of mankind.

Fidelity is a virtue for the exercise of which the higher sensibilities of man make imperious demands in this age, largely dominated by the spirit of selfishness. Self-interest in this materialistic day separates men from this lovable, manly virtue which gems the heart, wherever found, and is one of the salient marks of the true, rightly-bred man. Faithfulness to every trust, to every promise, to every word, to every obligation to society, to family, to friends and to this order is a quality that bespeaks the nobility of a man's character and marks its possessor among his fellows. When the fidelity of a man entails sacrifice, privations, suffering, troubles and bitter trials, as life frequently shows, the hero of faithfulness rises above his fellows and becomes a hero, who in quiet, upright life will be rewarded in the higher sphere, where faithlessness is unknown and the faithful shall live in everlasting bliss.

A great mind once fashioned this thought:

"There is no virtue so truly great and God-like as justice."

To do right with your fellowmen, not alone in act, but in word and thought, is a perfection, an evidence of the amelioration and perfectability of human nature. It is closely allied with fidelity, but broader in scope—in its broadest acceptation meaning conformity to rectitude in all things. In the great treasury of wisdom and expression, the bible, the highest type of man recognized on this mundane sphere, not alone by the inspired writers but by the Savior Himself, is designated as the "just man," and hence Sidney Smith philosophizes:

"Truth is the handmaid of justice, freedom is its child, peace is its companion, safety walks in its steps, victory follows in its train; it is the brightest emanation from the gospel; it is the attribute of God."

DIVIDES SORROW.

Brotherly love, which makes all men one, which predisposes each to be as anxious for the welfare of another as for his own, sublimes our human nature. It divides the sorrows and troubles of life. Our grief, our disappointments, our sufferings, are broken by the throbbing of a heart in unison with our own. It is the cohesive force which binds together the members of great orders like this, and it is the presage of the future life, where brotherly love abounds in celestial fullness.

The most admired gem in the casket of Elkdom is charity, "true charity, a plant divinely nursed." Few outside know of the high regard in which this virtue is held in this order, nor the constant practice of it enjoined by every phase of the ritual and enforced by the genius of our order. Beneath its mantle are buried a brother's faults. Detraction is unworthy of an Elk. The loving hand of Elk charity stretches out to relieve distress, to alleviate pain, to assuage sorrow, to succor the needy, the orphan and the shelterless. Human misery everywhere is the magnet which draws forth the hand of charity within the confines of Elkdom.

To these high virtues were our dead brothers dedicated. It is a soul-refreshing thought that, while the constellated stars keep vigil of their sleep that knows no waking, in this temple, tonight they live again and move and talk and entertain, conjured up by the memories and hearts of those who knew them and who loved them and who breathe again the tender valedictory. Farewell, loved brothers! We, too, in a few short years, shall slumber in the bosom of Mother Earth, shall answer your beckoning, and we pray, join you in the spirit land where, in the perennial sunshine of perfect justice, perfect fidelity, perfect charity, and perfect brotherly love, we shall live forever!

"Thy Way, Not Mine, O Lord," was sung by Miss Gill, the Cathedral quartet was heard in "Lord, We Praise Thee," and Hon. W. H. Shambaugh followed in his tribute to the two brothers of the order who have passed away during the past year—William Cavanaugh and George R. Hench.

A TRIBUTE OF LOVE.

Mr. Shambaugh opened with a reference to the remarkable growth of the order of Elks, told something of its principles and its objects. "It makes no pretense," said he, "of being or doing other than what it is. It is in fulfillment of one of the obligations that we are assembled here this evening. The inside workings of the fraternity are to some extent secret, but its objects and purposes are widely known. Its charity is not confined to its membership alone, for it gives to the poor and the deserving regardless of the source from which the call comes.

"The memory of a good man is a heritage to his generation. We assemble in this memorial service, and the incense of remembrance in fragrant cloud bears aloft our affection for the departed brethren. It is a pleasure weighted heavily with sorrow that calls me to witness for my departed friends." Mr. Shambaugh's next reference was to William Cavanaugh, a railroad fireman who met death in a railroad wreck in Colorado a few months ago, and though stating that he had no personal acquaintance with the deceased, the speaker found evidence of much in his life to be commended. He referred to the high tribute of warm personal friends, and as an especial incident cited the fact that in the settlement of the dead man's affairs had been found the Bible given him many years ago by his mother in Ireland. "That he was a kind and loving son is evidenced in this fact, and the man who loves and respects his mother, even after many years and thousands of miles of separation, needs no other recommend to me that he was a man of sterling heart, and I am told by his acquaintances that Brother Cavanaugh was of good habits and every inch a man.

THE LATE G. R. HENCH.

"Of Brother George R. Hench I can speak from an intimate knowledge. He and I were warm personal friends, and I feel able to say that he was kind, true, trusting and constant; as a man, strong, intelligent and industrious; as a citizen, law-abiding and patriotic; as a friend, constant and abiding. If thus could be said of all men, how good the world would be! It was indeed a sad pen which inscribed his name upon the yearly roll of death. Brother Hench was a leader. He gained recognition in every circle of life in which he labored. He was honored with responsible position. In the city council his record was clean, honest and commendable. What he did he did honestly and conscientiously. I never heard him speak ill of any man, and he died without fear of the future. But a short time before his death he said, 'I am ready.' He lived a good life, and in the consciousness of this he faced the end hopefully because of his confidence and faith in the great Divinity. It is indeed well that we retain in our memories loving recollections of such brethren as those to whose lives and works we have this night paid tribute."

Following Mr. Shambaugh's address Miss Gill sang "The Day Is Ended," F. J. Reineke rendering the violin obligato, and Trinity choir was heard in "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The closing ritualistic ceremonies followed, the audience uniting in the doxology and Rev. A. W. Seabrease pronouncing the benediction.

FELL DEAD AT DOOWAY.

London, Dec. 8.—Harry McCalmont, the well known sportsman and conservative member of parliament for Newmarket, dropped dead today as he was leaving his residence here. Mr. McCalmont apparently was in his usual health as he passed out of the door, but before he reached the sidewalk he fell and died almost instantly, supposedly of heart disease. Mr. McCalmont was the owner of Isinglass, the horse which won the derby in 1893, and he owned the steam yacht Giralda, which was purchased by the Spanish government at the time of the war between the United States and Spain. The deceased was an intimate friend of King Edward and was very popular generally.

CENTRAL LEAGUE MEETING.

A meeting of the present members of the Central League will be held in Indianapolis on December 10th. The present cities of the circuit are Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Evansville and Marion. Applications from twelve cities for membership have been received and the other cities will be selected at the meeting. Wheeling is a strong bidder for a franchise, and if Sunday games can be played there, the Stogie town will be admitted. Covington, Ky., is another probability.

DR. CHAMBERS LEAVES.

Dr. John D. Chambers left this morning for Chicago, where he will remain a day or two before starting on a western tour, which will conclude in California. Dr. Chambers expects to locate in the southern part of California and will probably conclude to remain there permanently. Dr. Chambers has been a practicing physician in Fort Wayne for thirty years and is one of the best known and most highly respected members of the medical fraternity in this city. Dr. W. F. Schrader has taken Dr. Chambers' offices on Harrison street and will take charge of his practice.

WILL CALL A PASTOR.

A meeting of the congregation of Redeemer English Lutheran church will be held this evening for the purpose of extending a call to a pastor. President Meyer, of the Missouri synod, has prepared a list of a number of young pastors who would be fitted for the place, and the congregation is in hopes of having better success than has attended them heretofore.

LOSS ON PERISHABLE FREIGHT.

A number of Fort Wayne firms who handle foodstuffs will lose quite heavily on account of the present unexpected cold snap. Several of these firms have cars of perishable freight standing on track here or en route and much of it has been badly damaged by the frost. None of the firms can give exact figures of their losses, but in one or two cases the damage to goods is said to be several hundreds of dollars.

NEW YEAR'S ENTERTAINMENT.

The Luther society of St. John's church is preparing to give a big entertainment on New Year's night and a committee consisting of Ed Jacobs, Fred Schmidt and Martha Stumpf has been appointed to arrange a program. The society will march from the school hall to the church, where Rev. Damnecker will preach a special sermon, and following the service there will be a supper and entertainment in the school hall.

FINED FOR TORTURING LION.

Pittsburg, Dec. 8.—Lafayette, a vaudeville performer, had a series of misfortunes while playing here last week. First, several of his assistants left him, including "the bride," who had participated in an act called "The Lion's Bride." Then a humane society agent discovered that the lion was being mistreated. The result was that Lafayette was fined $20. In order to make his act realistic and thrilling Lafayette had introduced a caged lion, which was goaded by a strong electric current to roar in an infuriated manner. An inspection of the stage by the officers of the humane society revealed large copper plates in the bottom of the beast's cage. At the moment the animal was called on to roar a strong alternating electrical current was turned on from the dynamo and the lion in its struggles dashed about its pen in a way that led the audience to believe its fury was natural. Lafayette was arrested on a charge of cruelty to animals and Alderman Oyer imposed a fine.

SUFFERING IN DENMARK.

Copenhagen, Denmark, Dec. 8.—The widespread suffering here, resulting from industrial stagnation and commercial depression, has been intensified by the unusual severity of the winter, which set in a month earlier than usual. Building operations had largely to be abandoned, thus increasing the number of persons unemployed to an extent surpassing most of the records and seriously taxing the resources of the charity organizations.

DILLON IN NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 8.—John Dillon, one of the leaders of the Irish nationalist party, is at the Hoffman house with his wife, who arrived on the Umbria from Europe. Mr. Dillon, who had been ill in Chicago and who had just arrived here, was affected materially by his trip and was obliged to take to his bed at the hotel and deny himself to all callers. While his condition is not considered serious, Mrs. Dillon said that he was too ill to see anybody.

WAS FIRST TO CRY "EXTRA."

New York, Dec. 8.—Henry L. Gatchitt, who as a lad was the first newsboy in New York to cry his papers aloud, has just died at his home in Brooklyn, a rich man. He was born on the east side and sold newspapers in the streets when the site of Cooper Union was a cornfield. Acting on an inspiration one day he took up his stand in Park Row and began calling out the names of his papers and an inkling of their contents to passers-by. The present "extra" yell of the newsboy dates from that time.

A Weak Stomach

Indigestion is often caused by overeating. An eminent authority says the harm done thus exceeds that from the excessive use of alcohol. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. A weak stomach may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you need a good digestant like Kodol, which digests your food without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics Kodol contains soon restore health. Dieting unnecessary. Kodol quickly relieves the feeling of fulness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. Absolutely cures indigestion.

WABASH STRIKE ENDS TONIGHT

Ramsey's Compromise Proposition is Accepted by the Wabash Employes.

SHOPS OPEN TOMORROW

Every Man Will Report and Take Up Work Where He Left Off Weeks Ago.

While the action of the committees in declaring the strike off lacks ratification by vote of the Wabash employes, it practically ends the long strike for a 4 per cent. raise in wages, and the shops will resume operations at once with all of the old men in their places. Settlement was made upon a compromise, the men receiving half of the increase demanded. It has been by all odds the longest and most expensive labor contest ever waged in Fort Wayne and its close will be matter for rejoicing throughout the entire city. The boilermakers went out October 23, the machinists October 30 and the blacksmiths on November 3. There were in the neighborhood of 300 men engaged in the strike and estimating their aggregate earnings at $600 per day, it makes the loss in wages approximately $25,000. A meeting was held by the strikers yesterday afternoon and another this morning, but owing to the attendance being small, decisive action was not taken on the proposition to declare the strike off. But a canvass of the field developed a decided sentiment towards approving the action of the committees and at the meeting being held at Anderson hall as The Sentinel goes to press the question will be settled.

So confident are the shop officials that the strike will end today that they have arranged to put the night force on this evening and tomorrow every machine and furnace in the shops will be put in operation. The first engine to receive attention will be No. 7, which broke a crank pin last week. Then the engines now in the stalls in various stages of repair will receive attention and soon be placed into service on the road. Last night engines 610, 621, 823, 805 and 809 were sent here for repairs. The two former are big passenger engines and the others are freighters of the Richmond compound pattern. The company made a "clearing up" day of yesterday and had all of its local engines and crews in through freight service. As a result there is nothing approaching congestion at any point on the eastern division of the system and with the aid of the borrowed engines mentioned by The Sentinel last Saturday, business will move along uninterruptedly.

TRAINMEN ELECT OFFICERS.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, held its semi-annual election of officers yesterday, which resulted in the following roster:

Master—W. H. Clements.
Vice Master—J. N. Miller.
Secretary—E. St. John.
Financier—C. A. Scott.
Journal Agent—E. J. Girard.
Delegate—W. H. Clements.
Alternate—W. B. Rooney.

Most of these have been re-elected, some of them having filled their offices several years. There are several other offices to be filled, including the chaplain, conductor, wardon, inner and outer guards, but they are appointive and the master will not announce them until later. The lodge will install the officers the last Sunday in December. The installation will be public. At the meeting yesterday James Hay, of the Pittsburg, and J. H. Simmer, of the C., H. & D., were taken into membership.

BIG TRAIN MOVEMENT.

The Pennsylvania company handled seventy-five trains on the western division of the road yesterday and twelve of them were double-headers. There were eighty-nine engines engaged in the movement, some of them being borrowed from the Grand Rapids and Indiana road.

STARTS SAVINGS BANK.

To encourage economy among its employes the Pennsylvania railroad has established a savings bank department wherein the men can deposit small sums monthly and receive 3½ per cent interest on the amount. Ticket agents are made the receiving and paying tellers of this department.

IS A REGULAR NOW.

The many Fort Wayne friends of Charles W. Zeigler will be pleased to learn that he has been promoted from the freight to the passenger service on the Nickel Plate. He succeeds J. E. Turner, who resigned on account of ill health and will go to Butte, Mont., to reside. Mr. Turner is one of the veterans in the train service of the Nickel Plate and for seven years has been a passenger conductor. Mr. Zeigler is also a veteran, his term of service dating from the completion of the road, twenty years ago. Until four or five years ago, when he became an extra passenger conductor, he resided in this city. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Zeigler, and brother, Frank Zeigler, the latter of the Boston Store, reside on East Washington street. Mr. Zeigler is at present on Conductor Charles Bell's run, the latter having taken a six weeks' lay-off, but he will soon take his proper place.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.

Peter Mers celebrated the sixty-ninth anniversary of his birth last Friday evening by holding a family reunion at his pleasant home on Holman street. There were present all the children and grandchildren and a number of other relatives, and the scene was a lively and happy one. Mr. Mers received numerous presents, included being a handsome smoking set. He is one of the old employes of the Pennsylvania company and another year will see him placed on the retired list. Mr. Mers is a carpenter by trade and for some years was employed in the east car shops in building cars. Some time ago he was transferred to the upholstering department, over the planing mills, on Lafayette street. He is a good, faithful workman and is held in high esteem by the shop officials and his shopmates.

FIREMAN GOODWIN'S FUNERAL

The funeral of the late F. E. Goodwin, the Pittsburg fireman who was killed last Friday night at Nevada, Ohio, took place at Wanatah at 9 o'clock this morning and was largely attended. Eighteen engineers and firemen from this city, three of the men being accompanied by their wives, went down to Wanatah on train 15 this morning to attend the funeral. Included in the party was a committee from A. G. Porter lodge, No. 141, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, of which the deceased was a member just two weeks and in which society he held a life insurance policy for $1,500.

E. A. GOULD VERY SICK.

General Superintendent E. A. Gould, of the Missouri Pacific, was taken with a severe attack of neuralgia of the stomach yesterday, while in his office in St. Louis, and was brought to his home in Peru last night. He suffers intensely, but a telegram from Peru stated that his physician did not consider the attack cause for alarm. Mr. Gould was taken ill in a similar manner three years ago, but recovered in a week. Although Mr. Gould's official headquarters are in St. Louis, he still retains a residence in Peru, where he lived when he was division superintendent of the Wabash.

FELL OFF HIS ENGINE.

An engineer whose name could not be learned fell off a Pennsylvania engine a short distance out from Allegheny last night and was killed. The train was moving very rapidly when the accident happened and traveled twenty-three miles before the fireman made the discovery that the engineer was not at the throttle. The dead man ran between Crestline and Allegheny and lived in the latter place.

WILL ELECT OFFICERS.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Friendship lodge No. 70, International Association of Machinists will hold their semi-annual election tomorrow afternoon. This auxiliary is young, but is having a wholesome growth and is taking a prominent position among the auxiliaries to labor organizations.

SOCIAL A FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

The social given by the Ladies' Society of the B. L. F., at Trainmen's hall, Saturday night, was not as largely attended as the ladies hoped, owing to the very disagreeable weather, which prevailed during the early hours of the evening. Nevertheless, there was a pretty fair attendance and those present were highly entertained. The fore part of the evening was devoted to progressive pedro, the winners being Miss Katie Kallen and Christian Hahn, and those securing the consolation prize Miss Lizzie Whittles and Jack Gallagher. At the close of the card contest, supper was served. Not over one-half of the tickets that had been sold were presented at the door, on account of the bad weather, and the affair was all that could have been expected in a financial way.

COLD WAVE IS UNWELCOME.

The sudden drop in the temperature is a condition that is most unwelcome to Contractor John Sulzer and others who are interested in getting the new round house of the Pennsylvania completed at an early date. It was hoped that the building could be occupied the latter part of this week or early next week, but present indications point to a later date for the opening of the new round house. The cold this morning compelled the carpenters, roofers and pipe fitters to relinquish work. The turntable is not yet completed and nearly all the radial tracks centering at the table are still to be put in. The cold wave is also unwelcomed by the men employed in the train service of the several roads entering the city. It has tightened up the boxings and made a necessity for a reduction of the tonnage, which cannot be accomplished in a night. As a result trains are more or less late in reaching the terminals. Trains 6 and 18, on the Pittsburg, were considerably behind schedule time in reaching this city. In addition to the delay caused by the weather, these trains were also held back at Warsaw by the tracks being blocked for awhile by a broken car in a freight train.

NEW NAMES ON PAY ROLL.

Louis E. Rehling, who has been employed in the Baltimore and Ohio shops in Garrett for three months, is in the city and will take a position at the forge in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop tomorrow. Louis will be welcomed by his old shopmates. F. Charton, a fine cutter, and Arthur C. Twinning, a laborer, took positions at the Pittsburg shops also this morning, the latter being assigned to the round house.

ENGINEER IS IMPROVING.

Engineer A. G. Wagner, of the Pennsylvania, who was painfully injured a few days ago in a railroad accident at Nevada, Ohio, is improving at a gratifying rate at his home, 461 Suttenfield street, this city. He is now able to sit up and receive his friends. In some unaccountable manner rumor gained currency to the effect that Mr. Wagner had died from his injuries. Happily they were untrue, and the injured man hopes to soon resume his run.

WILL VOTE ON PROPOSITION.

Tomorrow afternoon the conductors, brakemen and switchmen in the employ of the Pennsylvania company will hold a meeting at Trainmen's hall to take a vote upon Supt. J. B. McKim's proposition in reference to a matter laid before him some weeks ago. It is hoped that the attendance will be large. The meeting will be held at 1:30 o'clock.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The Pennsylvania Social club will elect officers Wednesday evening.

C. F. Klenke has gone to Pittsburg to work about two weeks. He is a Pennsylvania lineman.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. George Youtz. The father is a pipe fitter at the Wabash shops.

A. L. Hadley has returned from Philadelphia, where he went several days ago in the interest of the Fort Wayne Electric company.

The Pennsylvania limited, No. 5, struck and killed a man at Whiting, Ind., Sunday morning. The man was walking on the tracks.

Fred Berghorn will soon resume his duties in the Pittsburg boiler shop, where he has worked for so many years. Mr. Berghorn has been ill for several weeks.

J. H. Harper, Nickel Plate baggage mater at Bellevue, is lying very sick with lung disease. The sick man is an old employe of the road and is well known to all the trainmen.

Brakemen E. M. Ripple and R. R. Meyers, of the Pennsylvania, were victims of accidents Saturday. The former had a shoulder dislocated and the latter had an ankle sprained.

John Kane, whose death was mentioned Saturday, was a member of Howard council, No. 946, Royal Arcanum, and the news of his demise was brought to the city through a telegram to the officials of that lodge.

Trainmaster J. F. Patterson, of the Pennsylvania, has hired nineteen brakemen since December 1.

Scarlet fever has entered the home of Thomas L. Comparet, bookkeeper at the Bass offices. His little daughter, Irene, is quite sick with the disease.

Nickel Plate local freight crews and engines were in service yesterday helping to move the accumulation at the several freight centers and the road is in good shape today.

J. F. Lapp, an air-brake machinist, and F. S. Luley, a tinner, resumed their duties in the Pittsburg shops this morning. The former had been off to attend a funeral and the latter was sick.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Kinnaird—a daughter. The father is master mechanic of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus road and resides in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. He is an old Fort Wayne boy.

The machinists who were engaged all of yesterday in repairing the engine in the new wheel shop at the Bass foundry, did not complete the task and that part of the foundry was not put in operation this morning. It will resume business tomorrow.

Henry Dickmeyer, of the Pittsburg smith shop, has an injured leg which will keep him from duty for a few days. H. E. Overly, Albert A. VanEvery and John Shuster are sick. The latter was taken ill this morning after he reported for work in the machine shop.

Stock from Columbia City and Churubusco now reaches the Buffalo market over the Nickel Plate. Fourteen cars of live cattle and hogs passed through the city Saturday night. The stock was taken on the Nickel Plate at South Whitley. Formerly this business went east over the Wabash.

E. G. Cotner, the Pittsburg painter who is now en route to California in quest of health, carries with him a reminder of his associates here in the shape of a fine gold ring. The jewel was purchased by subscriptions from the shopmates of Mr. Cotner and presented to him by a committee composed of H. E. Roembke, H. Rohlman and Ed King, the first mentioned acting as spokesman. Mr. Cotner has been employed at the Pittsburg paint shop fifteen years and only severs his connection with it now on account of failing health.

When Miss Mary Wilkins, the talented author, became the bride of Dr. Charles M. Freeman of Metuchen, N. J., on the 1st of last January, she caused dismay in her New England home. Miss Wilkins' home at Randolph, Mass., had become a recognized shrine to which the literary minded made pilgrimages. She was the chief figure of the town, its lioness, its foremost citizen and its pride. Her loss was a blow to the community.

Mrs. Freeman's new home at Metuchen, though outwardly unpretentious, contains much that is artistically beautiful. It is filled with rare pieces of furniture, many of which are heirlooms in Dr. Freeman's family. The house has wide porches and stands in the shade of numerous spruce, oak and elm trees.

From every window the purple hills can be seen stretching away into woodlands. It is such an ideal spot for one of artistic sensibilities that Miss Wilkins' willingness to forsake her Massachusetts home is not hard to explain. Of course she brought her own pet pieces of furniture and many other things.

Upstairs is a sunny south chamber she calls her "den." It is a colonial room fitted up with severe simplicity. The walls and carpet are moss green. The chairs and table, couch and desk are all of the style of that period of more than a century ago when in the bride's native New England ideas were as prim as the chair backs of the time.

It is here that she spends much of her time now that the publishers have lured her back into literary paths. Miss Wilkins transfers her fancies directly to paper through the medium of a typewriting machine, which she operates herself, rarely changing a word. Of all the rooms in the new home, from the little blue drawing room to the shining kitchen, this colonial "den" is her favorite.

Mrs. Freeman is proud of one of her accomplishments as a housekeeper—she makes excellent cake. The pantry of the house at Metuchen she keeps well supplied with this work of her hands.

Slightly Soiled by Smoke.

During the recent fire in the Pearse building adjoining our store, a portion of our table linen department was slightly soiled by smoke.

The insurance companies adjusted our loss and we propose to give the public the benefit of substantial reduction on high-grade table linens, napkins and a quantity of bedspreads; also a quantity of outing flannels and flanneletts.

This will be an exceptional linen sale-bargain that will certainly appeal to every housekeeper in Fort Wayne.

Cost or value not considered. Linens sold during this sale for cash only. Sale opens today.

GOSHEN LINE MEN ARE HERE TODAY

St. Louis Capitalists Come to Look Up Question of a City Entrance.

Braving the stinging cold of the early morning, two prominent St. Louis gentlemen made the drive into Fort Wayne from the northwest today, passing over the proposed route of the Fort Wayne and Goshen interurban line. They were James F. Rothwell and Arthur S. Partridge, who are behind the movement to construct the electric railroad.

Mr. Rothwell and Mr. Partridge are at the Wayne hotel. Their visit to the city at this time is to look somewhat further into the matter of a city entrance. It is said that both the city traction lines and the Southwestern interurban are being considered in this regard. Two of the engineers who have surveyed the line, Henry S. Bortner and Bright Bortner, of Albion, are also here assisting with the work.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works is in session this afternoon to transact routine business only.

At the health office new cases of diphtheria were reported from 410 West Creighton avenue and 927 Liberty street and a case of diphtheria from 1907 Smith street.

The city council will meet tomorrow night in regular session and with the exception of the matters referred to the committees at the last meeting nothing of importance is expected to arise. Not a single new paper has yet been filed with the city clerk.

Health Commissioner MacBeth is at Buffalo and will return tomorrow.

BURIAL IN CHICAGO.

It has now been determined that the burial of Charles Such will occur in Chicago instead of bringing the remains to this city for interment. Mr. Such was a son of Emil Such, residing at 113 East Leith street, and his death was the result of injuries sustained Saturday in falling from a ladder in Chicago. Until six years ago the young man was a resident of Fort Wayne. Friends in this city have received no additional particulars concerning the accident.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered, some years ago, how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, Eczema, Cuts, Burns, Bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Meyer Bros. & Co.

Maybe you don't believe it. That's your misfortune, not our fault. We can convince you in but one way. "Seeing is believing." Suppose, now, you

Peter Vieth, one of the well known pioneers of the city, is lying in a critical condition at his home, corner of East Wayne and Francis streets. Mr. Vieth is nearly ninety years of age and in early days was a captain on the old Wabash and Erie canal upon boats plying through this city. He is suffering from heart trouble and dropsy and has been in a serious condition for several days.

BADLY BITTEN BY A DOG.

While Miss Mary Weick, a domestic employed in the family of A. B. Jackson, was visiting the home of her parents on Taylor street Saturday evening, she was painfully bitten upon the left foot by a vicious dog. The animal seized Miss Weick's foot at the instep, tearing the flesh frightfully. The wound was dressed by a physician, and the injury will confine the young lady to her home for some time.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Wheat opened firm on higher cables and smaller receipts, May being unchanged to ⅛c up at 75¼c to 75⅜c. Trading early in the day was only moderate, but a fair demand developed on strong northwest markets and the announcement of the official estimate of the Manitoba crop for this year, which showed a reduction of between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 bushels. May advanced to 75⅝@75¾c, where the market held firm. Local receipts were 88 cars, with 3 of contract grade.

The market continued strong. A smaller increase in the visible supply than had been anticipated and unsettled weather in Argentina were influential factors. The close was strong and May, after selling up to 76c, closed ⅝@¾c higher at 75⅞@76c.

Although foreign news was bullish, the cold weather throughout the corn belt induced considerable selling the first part of the session, and opening prices were lower, with May a shade lower to a shade higher at 43¼c to 43⅜c. After selling off to 43⅛@43¼c a fair demand carried the price up to 43½c. Local receipts were light, 122 cars, with 7 of contract grade, and tended to support the market.

Commission houses were fair buyers during the last half of the session and the close was firm, May being up ⅜@½c at 43¾c.

The oats market was quiet. The cash situation was still the dominating influence and caused a firm feeling in the pit. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 32¾c to 32¾@32⅞c, later selling at 32⅞c. Local receipts were 336 cars.

Heavy receipts of hogs at the yards with lower prices caused an easier opening in provisions, January pork being 7½c lower at $16.22½, while lard was down 7½@10c at $9.65@9.67½, and ribs a shade lower at $8.25. A moderate demand from brokers caused a slight rally, but liquidation by outsiders prevented any material advance.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 8.—Opening prices advanced on light dealings following a higher range for Americans in London. Amalgamated Copper rose 1¼ and St. Paul about a point. North American jumped 3 points. There were large fractional gains in Manhattan, Brooklyn Transit, Louisville and Sugar.

Larger buying orders were executed for various leaders, causing a further improvement all through the list and lifting St. Paul, New York Central, Rock Island preferred, Hocking Valley preferred, Erie second preferred, Sugar, Brooklyn Transit, General Electric and Continental Tobacco preferred 1 to 1¾ above last week's close. Free offerings in St. Paul, followed by pressure against Sugar, forced those stocks down a point each and caused a yielding tone all around.

Fluctuations were narrow and trading very dull except in a few stocks. The prevailing sentiment was one of resignation to a dull market until the turn of the year shall bring some relief to the money market. The undertone was quite firm. Hocking Valley advanced 2⅞ and the preferred 2⅛.

Bonds were irregular at noon.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Dec. 8.—Money on call firm at 6@6½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 487.125@487.25 for demand and at 483.50@483.625 for 60 days; posted rates, 484½ and 488; commercial bills, 482¾@483¼; bar silver, 47⅝; Mexican dollars, 37. ROMANCE OF A FOUNDLING.

A curious and most romantic incident is reported to have happened near Evreux (Eure) a few days ago. Between 6 and 7 p. m. a motor car, minus the regulation number and letter, in which were four passengers, one of them a woman, was observed in the great high road which leads from Paris to Cherbourg, coming from the direction of L'Hotellerie (Calvados.)

When the motor car was in the Commune of Fontaine-le-Souvet it was seen to stop, and one of the occupants got down with a bulky parcel in his arms, which he placed on the roadside not far from a farm. When he had taken his seat again the car moved off, but it did not leave the vicinity until two peasants on their way home stopped to examine the curious bundle. At that moment the motor car darted off at full speed in the direction of Paris.

When the laborers picked up the parcel they discovered that it was a cradle, containing a newly born child, and they decided to take it to the mayor. One of them, however, suggested that it would be advisable first to take the cradle into the nearest house, so as to have a closer look at it with a view to finding some clue to its identification. His astonishment may be guessed when he found pinned beneath the baby's pillow fourteen bank notes of $200 each, representing a sum of $2,800, to which was attached a sheet of paper bearing the words:

"Whoever will take care of this child until its majority will have good fortune assured to him during his lifetime, on the express condition that he never seeks to penetrate the secret of the birth of the child, the issue of one of the noblest families of England."

The happy laborer, evidently considering that the stipulation was a light one, took the child under his arm, put the notes in his pocket, and resume his homeward journey.—Paris Letter to the London Mail.
